I. INTRODUCTION

A. COMPANY BACKGROUND

Based in Washington, D.C., ACDI/VOCA is a nonprofit international development organization that delivers technical and management assistance in agribusiness, financial services, enterprise development, community development and food security in order to promote broad-based economic growth and vibrant civil society. For more information, go to www.acdivoca.org.

B. PROPOSAL BACKGROUND

ACDI/VOCA was awarded a USDA Food for Progress project in Jamaica, OGSM FCC-532-2022/003-00. As part of the award, ACDI/VOCA received the following commodities and volume: 10,000 metric tons (MT) of Yellow Corn, 12,000 MT of Soybean Meal, 14,000 MT of Hard Red Winter wheat, and 4,000 MT of Dried Distiller Grains with Solubles to monetize in the CARICOM region to implement the project, JaSpice, focused on achieving the following objectives:

- To increase the productivity of high-quality Jamaican ginger, turmeric, and pimento by strengthening the capacity of farmers, producer organizations (POs), processors and other private sector entities, while improving the food security and climate resiliency of farmers.
- To improve and expand the trade of ginger, turmeric, and pimento products by increasing their quality to meet international standards and connecting farmers and POs with Jamaican and international buyers.

Ultimately, ACDI/VOCA monetized 35,530 MT of various classes of wheat including Soft Red Winter wheat, Northern Spring wheat, and Hard Red Winter wheat to Jamaica Grain & Cereals Limited and the National Milling Company of Guyana over two sales in 2023. A third sale of 9,500 MT of soybean meal delivered to ADM Colombia was executed in May and June 2024.

II. PURPOSE

The objective of the Post Monetization Impact Assessment is to assess and document the effects of the project commodity monetization sales and determine whether the sales caused any adverse impacts in the markets to which they were sold. Adverse impacts may include displacing commercial trade and/or discouraging local food production.

A. SCOPE OF WORK

The selected consultant or firm will design and conduct an in-depth assessment of the impact of the monetization in the local economies, including both desk-based and in-country studies. Data should be collected from both primary and secondary sources of information and the assessment should use a mixed-methods approach that applies qualitative and quantitative techniques and triangulates information from different methods to enhance the reliability of the findings. The assessment should seek to address the following key questions. The selected consultant or firm may refine these questions or propose new or alternative questions.

Market Context & Effect on Commodity Prices

- To what extent did the monetization sale affect the local or regional production and consumption in the short- (few months after monetization), medium, (marketing year after monetization), and long term (subsequent marketing year)?
- To what extent did monetization displace commercial trade in the short-term, medium-term, and long-term?

- Are there any substitutes for the selected commodity? If so, did the monetization of the selected commodities impact production/marketing of these substitutes?
- Was the timing and volume of the sale appropriate?
- Did the sales occur as intended or was there a lag because of unforeseen conditions in the market?
- Are/were there adequate logistics in the country to handle the volume of commodity sold in the number of shipments?
- To what extent was in-country storage utilization affected?
- Did monetized commodities crowd-out commercial or local commodities in competition for storage facilities?
- Did the cost for storage change due to the monetized commodity coming into the warehousing market?
- Was the transportation infrastructure affected? How?
- Did the port(s) have the capacity to efficiently handle the shipments?
- Were buying patterns of local and international actors affected? If so, what was the magnitude and length of the change?
- Was there an effect on prices? If so, how? Do price trends in the market parallel overall global trends or are there circumstances unique to that particular market?
- What happened to local and international prices during this period? (Were there any sudden price shocks that differed from other years)?
- Do price fluctuations follow a global, regional, or particular local pattern?
- Were there any other market factors that could have impacted prices during that time?

Monetization Process

- How did interested buyers/potential buyers learn about the tender? What were the most effective outreach methods for bidders/potential buyers that learned about the tender?
- Did sales occur as intended or was there a lag because of unforeseen conditions in the market?
- Were the timing, volume, and terms of the sale appropriate?
- What were the initial PVO estimates for price and quantity? What were the actual prices and quantities of the commodities sold?
- Did the tender process attract the desired number and quality of offers? If not, why not?
- How many potential buyers have/had the capability to bid and purchase the entire load according to the established conditions in the bid?

B. DELIVERABLES

1. With inputs from ACDI/VOCA, the selected consultant or firm will produce a detailed work plan that includes: a description of the assessment methodology and approach, a timeline for the assessment, and a research plan that includes the list of experts and/or relevant stakeholders in the sector to interview/survey as well as the list of potential sources for secondary research.
2. Develop the tools required for data collection (surveys, etc.) and present them to ACDI/VOCA for feedback and approval.
3. Using qualitative and quantitative methods which includes econometric and statistical analyses, develop and test hypotheses about the direct and indirect relationships between food aid monetization efforts and local prices for wheats and cereal grains in Jamaica and Guyana. An example of a testable hypothesis is that the monetization activity had no negative impact on wheat prices in Jamaica and Guyana in 2023.
4. The selected consultant or firm will conduct the assessment, addressing the assessment objectives and responding to the questions in the scope of work, and develop and present a summary of preliminary findings. The document should include a table of content and main preliminary findings. In addition, the document should include, as annexes, relevant charts, analyses or calculations needed to produce/estimate findings. This document will be the main input for the final report.

5. Following ACDI/VOCA's feedback on the preliminary summary of findings, consultant will produce a) final, detailed assessment report in high-quality English and b) a 2-3 page stand alone brief describing the evaluation design, key findings and other relevant considerations. The brief will serve to inform any interested stakeholders of the Post Monetization Impact Assessment and should be written in language easy to understand by non-evaluators and with appropriate graphics and tables.
6. Final presentation: The selected consultant or firm will develop a PowerPoint document and will conduct a presentation for ACDI/VOCA's staff and other stakeholders.

The overall level of effort required to complete these deliverables is estimated at approximately 90 – 120 days.

III. CONTRACT MECHANISM & TERMS OF PAYMENT
